REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Your Committee having attended to the duties assigned them, have the pleasure to report, that the several Prudential Committees have been so fortunate as to secure the services of competent teachers, and that the schools have been so conducted by them, as to be of material benefit to the youth of the town.

With one or two exceptions, scholars have seemed to appreciate the opportunities afforded them, and have so behaved themselves as to deserve the commendation of all. Some school-houses which have for a few years past, been a discredit to the districts wherein they were located, have been renovated, thus materially adding to the looks of things, as well as contributing to the comfort of both teachers and pupils. A few remain, however, that we trust will ere long receive attention.

Too unfrequent visits of parents, and those directly interested in the children, still continue; this neglect should not be without remedy, as a kindly show of consideration for their welfare, is of extreme importance.

For further information, the citizens are respectfully referred to the following report by districts:

DISTRICT No. 1.—HOPKINTON VILLAGE.

Taught during the year by Miss Sarah U. Kimball. Miss K. labored faithfully in the interest of her scholars, and did what she could, your committee are satisfied, to render the school a profitable one.—Some of the older males, we are sorry to report, conducted themselves in a manner unbecoming young gentlemen, and not to be expected from those who have professed better things. We are of opinion that for the winter term, the school should be provided with a male teacher.

G.

DISTRICT No. 2.

Summer Term.—Taught by Miss Cora I. Symonds of Hopkinton. This was Miss Symonds' first attempt at teaching. The school was quiet and orderly, and good progress was made in the studies pursued. The school passed a pleasant examination; the school-room was improved in appearance by the tasteful arrangement of evergreen and mottoes.

DUSTIN.

Winter Term.—Taught by Samuel T. Symonds. We found good order and very pleasant feelings between the teacher and pupils. The system of imparting instruction, as practiced by the teacher, could not fail of producing good results. The examination at close of school, was such as makes your committee believe in the good results of employing a teacher, who not only loves his work, but has the respect and confidence of the people with whom he lives.

E.

DISTRICT No. 3.

Taught during the year by Miss Luella E. Straw. The reputation of such a teacher is quite enough to show the wisdom of the committee in securing the services of one so well qualified to fill the position of instructor to the youth of the town.

E.

DISTRICT No. 4.

During the year, Miss Clara A. Smith has sustained the good reputation previously earned by her, as a good teacher in any district that secures her services.

At the close of each term, the review of studies pursued, was satisfactory to your committee, and must have been highly gratifying to the teacher.

E.

DISTRICT No. 5.—SOUTH ROAD.

Teacher for the year, Miss Ida M. Dearborn. Miss Dearborn is a teacher of considerable experience, and taught this school in a manner highly satisfactory to all interested. The examination was creditable to both teacher and pupils. We recommend a continuance of her services.

G.

DISTRICT No. 6.—JEWITT ROAD.

Teacher for the year, Miss Mary L. Flanders. Miss Flanders conducted this school during the year in a manner highly creditable, and all her pupils made marked improvement. She is a good teacher, with excellent discipline, and the district cannot do better than to continue her services. G.

DISTRICT No. 7.—MAIN ROAD.

First and second terms by Miss Gertrude Straw. This is the second year of Miss Straw's services in this district, and she has fully sustained the good reputation heretofore acquired as a teacher. The best of feeling existed between teacher and scholars, and we have no doubt the school year was one of profit and pleasure to all. G.

DISTRICT No. 8.—BEACH HILL.

Miss Sarah E. Winslow teacher for the year. Miss Winslow is a teacher of limited experience, but taught this school with good success. She had but few scholars, and those for the most part quite young. They all improved considerably, and the examination satisfied us that the teacher had labored faithfully. G.

DISTRICT No. 9.

This district was fortunate in securing for the year, the services of Miss Frances E. Morrill. No school (visited by your committee) made more progress in the various studies pursued. The pupils, to quote the words of their excellent instructress, "readily fell into my ways of teaching." The school is small and most of the pupils quite young, but still, we must say that very few schools could undergo such a rigid examination, and answer questions in arithmetic and geography as readily (and almost invariably correct) as did these young pupils.

Miss Morrill has had considerable experience as a teacher in public schools in Massachusetts; and the new ideas she brings into our district schools, (if they could be universally adopted) would do a world of good. E.

DISTRICT No. 10.

Summer Term.—This term of school was commenced by Mrs. A. P. Dow, who taught two weeks and was then obliged to leave on account of sickness, the remaining six weeks were taught by Mrs. A. A. P. Ketchum. We think the scholars made very good improvement and that the change of teachers caused but very little interruption in the affairs of the school. Mrs. K. fully sustained her former reputation as a teacher. Miss Hattie Chase and Miss Josie Steele did not whisper during the term.

DUSTIN.

Winter Term.—Taught by Mrs. A. P. Dow, of Con-toocook. It appears by the continued services of Mrs. Dow, that her labors have been appreciated by the district. All the classes made commendable improvement in their studies. A little class in the primer deserves special mention. The exercises closed with declamations and dialogues. An increased interest was added to the occasion by the presence of many of the parents and citizens.

DUSTIN.

DISTRICT No. 11.

Summer Term.—Taught by Miss Alice J. Whittier of Webster. This school was taught with very good success. The teacher was faithful and untiring in her efforts to promote the improvement of her pupils. Many little items of information, useful and important, were taught. The progress compares well with other schools.

DUSTIN.

Winter Term.—Taught by Miss Helen H. Colby of Hopkinton. There is no school in town where the labors of an experienced and efficient teacher are more needed than here. Miss C. was faithful in her endeavors to improve this school, but was not as successful here as she might have been in a school of a different character.

DUSTIN.

DISTRICT No. 12.

Summer Term.—Taught by Miss Nettie Daniels of Weare. This was Miss Daniels' first experience in teaching. The committee judging from the appearance of the school at each visit, is of the opinion that she taught well, and that good progress was made. DUSTIN.

Winter Term.—Taught by Mr. George H. Dodge. This school made rapid advancement in grammar and mathematics. Mr. Dodge, (who has a happy faculty of imparting his knowledge to others,) succeeded in keeping his school to the end of the term in such a state of discipline and improvement, that your committee are willing, and feel called upon, to recommend his employment as a teacher, in any district in town. E.

DISTRICT No. 13.

Summer Term, commencing May 1st, and ending July 7th, 1876, taught by Miss Katie M. Carpenter. This school being the first of Miss Carpenter's efforts, your committee feel called upon to express a decided satisfaction that so young a teacher should have produced such splendid results as the examination exhibited. E.

Winter Term.—Taught by Frank B. Chase. It needs no words of commendation from your committee as regards Mr. Chase's qualifications for the position he accepted in his own district. He kept a good school; had a good review; and this (we believe,) would be the voice of a majority of the district. E.

DISTRICT No. 14.

Taught during the year by Miss Alice C. Flanders. This school was a success as shown at the close, in the marked improvement of pupils. Miss Flanders with an experience of seven terms in teaching, can be classed among our best instructors. E.

DISTRICT No. 16.

Summer Term.—Taught by Miss Nettie M. Peabody of Henniker. Miss P. is perfectly at home in the schoolroom. Her discipline was mild but decided, and well calculated to secure order, attention and interest on the part of the scholars. The examination at the close of the term was well sustained by the pupils, and indicated a thoroughness in the different classes. Teacher and scholars are deserving of much commendation. DUSTIN.

Your committee have nought but good words to say of Miss Etta L. Huntington, who taught the winter term in this district. We think she is well qualified to fill the responsible position of instructress. We believe that any district securing her services in this capacity, cannot make a mistake. E.

DISTRICT No. 17.—CURRIER'S.

Summer Term.—Miss Ellen M. Barnard, teacher. Miss Barnard came to this school unexpectedly, by reason of the illness of Miss Colby, who had been engaged to teach it; but she acquitted herself very handsomely in the role of teacher, and proved herself amply qualified for such vocation should she choose to assume it. Satisfactory improvement was the result of her labors.

Winter Term.—Miss Clara J. Gould teacher. Miss Gould is possessed of the qualifications requisite in a good teacher and will earn, like her father before her, a high reputation, if she continues in this field of labor. Her school was among the most successful in town, and we recommend a continuance of her services. G.

DISTRICT No. 18.

Kept through the year by Miss Emma J. Flanders. Miss Flanders had a very small school (as regards numbers,) but devoted herself so earnestly to their improvement in all the branches taught, that the pupils could not help being able to give a good report of themselves at the examinations. The district did not waste money by employing Miss Flanders. E.

DISTRICT No. 19.

Summer Term, taught by Miss Clara J. Gould : Winter Term by Mr. Charles Gould. We think the district has reason to be proud of their selection of teachers. In the first instance—the daughter of a man who loves the business of teaching youth—could not help becoming a good teacher.

It is useless to speak of Mr. Gould. We don't suppose it possible for him to keep a poor school. He is in earnest all the time, and pupils reap the benefit. E.

DISTRICT No. 20.

Taught by Miss Clara A. Putney of Webster. In no school that we have visited the past year have we found a more useful system than was maintained here. The teacher appeared truly zealous in her vocation, and seemed to impart life and energy to all around her. The discipline was of a high order, and the instruction was very thorough. Good progress was made in all the studies. A class who began grammar, deserve special mention.

Ada Downing, Lottie Ela, Alida Montgomery and Clara Putnam, did not miss in spelling this term. DUSTIN.

Winter Term.—Taught by Mr. George W. Pierce of Hopkinton. Mr. Pierce is an experienced and practical teacher. The result was, as might be expected, highly satisfactory. The first class in reading is one of the most advanced in town. The teacher in his remarks says : this has been a very pleasant term. The scholars have been pleasant and cheerful, and have tried to obtain for the school a good report. DUSTIN.

DISTRICT No. 21.

Fall Term.—Taught by Miss Carrie Montgomery of Contoocook. This is the first term of Miss Montgomery. She begins teaching young, but with courage that seldom fails of success.

The scholars manifested a good interest in their studies and good improvement was made. DUSTIN.

DISTRICT No. 24.—FARRINGTON CORNER.

Teacher for the year, Miss Sarah E. Hart. This is a union district with Concord, and the school is composed of quite a number of small scholars from both places. Your committee find that the teacher has given universal satisfaction to pupils, parents and all interested, and she speaks in her register of the pleasure she has experienced during her labors, and the kindness extended to her by the residents of the district. With such a state of things the school could not well be otherwise than successful, as was plainly exhibited by the examination. G.
